An Environmental Review Committee is established for Pike County and shall consist of five members appointed by the Pike County Board of Commissioners, each for a term of two years. Members of the Environmental Review Committee may be removed from the committee for cause upon written charges delivered to the affected member and after a public hearing. Vacancies on the Committee membership shall be filled by the Board of Commissioners of Pike County for the unexpired term of the affected member as well as for the expired term of any member. The Chairperson of the Committee shall be chosen by the members of the Committee.

(B) Duties and responsibilities of the Committee.

(C) Hearings.

(1) The subpoena power of the Board of Commissioners of Pike County may be utilized to compel evidence or testimony. The County Attorney of Pike County shall represent the political subdivision of Pike County at such hearings. Hearings under this chapter may be conducted concurrently with hearings of other agencies at the direction of the hearing body. Reports from other reviewing agencies may be incorporated by the Environmental Review Committee or the Board of Commissioners of Pike County in their determinations or reports. The time frames set forth in this chapter may be extended by the Board of Commissioners of Pike County to conform with time periods for review set forth by any other agency of the state or federal governments.

(2) Public hearings held under the provisions of this chapter by the Environmental Review Committee may be extended to adjourned sessions of the Committee as required for the request for and the obtaining of the necessary information on which to base factual report to the Pike County Board of Commissioners. Notwithstanding such extensions, the final report to the Board of Commissioners by the Environmental Review Committee shall not extend beyond 45 days from the receipt of the case by the Environmental Review Committee.

(D) Stay of proceedings. From the time that a determination has been made, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, that an environmental review has been requested, the application for rezoning, construction or development is automatically stayed and, the provisions of the Pike County Zoning Regulations notwithstanding, as to various time frames set forth, no further action shall be taken on the application for rezoning, construction or development until a final decision is rendered by the Pike County Board of Commissioners as to whether an environmental development permit has been issued.

(E) Procedures.

(1) The applicant for the rezoning, construction or development, whose case is to be environmentally reviewed, shall be notified in writing at least ten days prior to the public hearing to attend the public hearing or to send a competent authorized representative.

The plans, specifications, studies and other information shall be reviewed to determine the impact of the project, development or rezoning applied for upon the environment, utilizing the following criteria and any other criteria deemed relevant by the reviewing bodies. Relevant considerations shall include, but shall not be limited to, the following:

(a) Will the proposed use create excessive noise, dust, odor, smoke, vibration or similar objectionable or unhealthful pollution to a degree that is detrimental to the quality of life or to a degree which is harmful to life, well-being or property values?

(b) Are modifications or controls feasible which would eliminate or reduce damage or danger to affected persons or properties, water quality or quantity, the ground water supply, flood protection, water protection, soil erosion protection, air quality, noise pollution or other undesirable effects on the environment? Are these damages or dangers too great for adequate control?

(c) Are public services available to support the project without major expenditures of public funds, thereby degrading other portions of the environment?

(d) Will any natural resource, such as timber land, farm land, water supply, water tables or other resources be reduced or removed from production or from the resource bank to a degree that the public interest in such resource(s) is damaged greater than the economic and social benefits of the project?

(3) The Pike County Zoning Administrator, the Environmental Review Committee and the Board of Commissioners of Pike County shall have the power to seek expert witnesses to give testimony on technical aspects of any case before them. Travel and per diem expenses, where applicable, for such witnesses shall be authorized by the Pike County Board of Commissioners.

(4) The Secretary to the Environmental Review Committee shall keep written records of the minutes of each meeting in a Minute Book and shall preserve documentary material presented at each hearing and attach same to the written reports of the Committee for forwarding to the Pike County Board of Commissioners.

(5) The applicant in the case under review shall have the right to present evidence and to call witnesses to be heard in the testimony before the Environmental Review Committee. Further, the applicant shall have the right to receive, within ten days of the date of the final hearing on the case, a copy of all papers forwarded to the Environmental Review Committee.

Such hearing may be held separately or as part of any regular or called meeting of the Board.

(B) At the public hearing on the case under environmental review, the Board of Commissioners shall consider the findings of the Environmental Review Committee, hear testimony, review evidence presented and take into account the information supplied by the applicant in the case; further, members of the public desiring to present information and comment shall be heard; finally, the Board of Commissioners may summon witnesses whose testimony may prove of value to an equitable determination. If possible, the Board of Commissioners will render a determination in the case to either issue the environmental development permit or to deny same. If such a determination is not possible or feasible at the time, the Board of Commissioners may extend the hearing to adjourned sessions of the Board, as required for the obtaining of necessary information on which to base a decision. Notwithstanding such extensions, however, the Board of Commissioners shall render a decision no later than 30 days from the date of the original hearing before the Board of Commissioners.

(C) The applicant shall be notified by letter of the date, time and purpose of each hearing held by the Board of Commissioners on the case at least ten days prior to the date of such hearing or hearings.

The Board of Commissioners shall either approve, deny or approve with conditions the environmental development permit application.

(D) The Pike County Board of Commissioners shall have the right to modify, restrict or place conditions upon the use of the property for which the application has been filed when such conditions, restrictions or modifications are required either by the information contained in the environmental review report or by evidence presented at any hearing held on the case.

Such rehearing shall be advertised by the Board of Commissioners at least 15 days prior to such rehearing for at least two times in the newspaper which is the legal organ of Pike County.

(3) The rehearing on appeal, as outlined in this chapter, may be conducted as a part of any regular or called meeting of the Board of Commissioners or may be held separately.

(B) Judicial review. Any person aggrieved by the decision of the Pike County Board of Commissioners as to issuance or denial of an environmental development permit, after exhausting administrative remedies, shall have the right to appeal de novo to the Superior Court of Pike County.(Ord. passed 6-16-89)

§ 154.07 PROCEDURE AFTER APPROVAL OR DENIAL OF AN ENVIRONMENTAL DEVELOPMENT PERMIT.
